Ventura City Fire Department responded to a reported structure fire at Wood Ranch restaurant. Upon arrival of the first arriving unit, smoke was issuing from the northwest corner of the building. Crews quickly made entry into the involved area and extinguished the fire. The fire was found to be in trash receptacles in an attached, interior structure. Sprinklers assisted firefighters with containing the fire to the room of origin.

The interior of the restaurant was investigated for extension of the fire with none found.

The cause of the fire was determined to be disposal of cooking material.

The damage is estimated at $3,000 to structure and $500 to contents.

No injuries were reported on this incident.
