Q: Is there a limit to the number of vehicles a person can own?

A: There is no law dictating the number of vehicles a person can own.

Q: Can they be stored on my property?

A: Vehicles parked on private property must have the consent of the owner and must be parked on a surface of asphalt or Portland cement concrete with adequate drainage. Vehicles must be in running condition.

Q: How many cars are allowed to be parked on the street?

A: Vehicles may not be parked or left standing on the street for more than a consecutive period of 72 hours. If left beyond a consecutive period of 72 hours, the police department may cite and/or remove the vehicle.

Q: Why is my car considered abandoned if it is on my own property?

A: You cannot store a vehicle which is in an abandoned, wrecked, dismantled or inoperative condition upon any private property or public property for a period in excess of five days unless the vehicle is completely enclosed within a building where it is not visible from the street or other public or private property.
